The Lifeboat
by Charlotte Rogan

"Every now and again a book seems to leap off the shelf at me at the library. Taking place two years after the sinking of the Titanic, this is the story of a young woman, newly married. The ship that she and her husband are on sinks and she is thrust on a lifeboat with 38 other people. After 21 days, those remaining alive are rescued and she, along with two other women, find themselves accused of murder. The author did a superb job of getting into the heads of her characters. What happens to your mind when you don't know if you will live or die and have no control over your environment? Excellent novel."
